

Complete with “How much” (if you can’t count them) or “How many” (if you can count them), and then draw and colour the products under the sentence, like in the example. If you don’t understand a word, ask the teacher or a classmate.

How many pears do you want?

-I want four pears, please

How much sugar do you need?

-I need one kilo, please.

- _____ sandwiches do you want?

-I want three!

- _____ water do you want?

-I want one glass of water, please

- _____ salt do you want?

-I want one teaspoon, please.

- _____ potatoes do you need?

-I need 100 kilos, please!

- _____ olive oil do you need?

-I need one bottle, please

- _____ oranges do you want?

-I want two oranges, please

- _____ lemons do you need?

-I don't want lemons! I hate them!

- _____ chocolate do you need?

-I need four bars, please!

- _____ apple juice do you need?

-I need three bottles, please

- _____ tomatoes do you want?

-I want three tomatoes, please

- _____ sausages do you want?

-I want two sausages. Thank you!

- _____ milk do you need?

-I need four bottles, please.

- _____ cheese do you need?

-I need one kilo, please

- _____ carrots do you want?

-I want seven carrots, please