

The English goblins. They are extremely grumpy and quite smart. They are not very friendly and a little bit lazy.

The Scottish dragons. They are really brave and extremely strong. They are very funny, but not very quiet.

The Welsh giants. They are quite strong and really kind. They are a little bit lazy and not very smart.

The Northern Irish fairies. They are extremely happy and very friendly. They are really quiet, but not very brave.

The Irish leprechauns. They are quite funny and very smart. They are really happy, but a little bit grumpy.

The American trolls. They are really strong and extremely grumpy. They are quite brave, but not very friendly.

The Canadian wizards. They are very smart and really kind. They are quite quiet and not very lazy.

The Australian mermaids. They are extremely friendly and very happy. They are really funny, but not very brave.

The New Zealander elves. They are really smart and very brave. They are quite friendly and a little bit quiet.

The South African unicorns. They are extremely kind and really quiet. They are very brave, but not very funny.