

TOURISM

How has tourism changed over the past few decades?

Would you ever consider working in tourism?

Do you ever have contact with tourists from different parts of Spain or other countries?

Are you planning any holidays at the moment?

What sort of information do you research before you go on holiday?

So you ever prefer to spend your holidays at home ("staycation")?

If you could take any kind of holiday, where would you go / what would you do?

How important is travelling to you?

Is it important for young people and children to travel abroad?

Have you been on holiday recently?

Do you prefer rural holidays or city breaks?

How is your taste in holidays changing (or how has it changed over time)?

TOURISM

Monologue: A holiday experience

Talk about all of the points listed

Choosing and booking	Food and drink	Feelings
Place	Accommodation	Memories
Times and dates	Service	Best and worst things
People	Views/ Sights/ Scenery	Comparisons to other places and holidays
Weather	Photos and souvenirs	Did everyone enjoy it?
Activities	Cost	Would you recommend it?
Travel		To whom?

Debate: "Let's do tourism!"

(Adapted from <https://www.thoughtco.com/discussion-and-debate-lesson-1210311>)

FOR (tourism development company)

- Increases jobs
- Improves the local economy
- Increases the importance and recognition of the city
- Increases leisure facilities and cultural activities for local residents

AGAINST (local residents)

- Pollution
- Anti-social behaviour
- Loss of traditional way of life
- Ruins the reputation of the city

TOURISM

What's the best way to attract more tourists to Galicia?

Stay with a local family ("homestay")

Beaches and nature

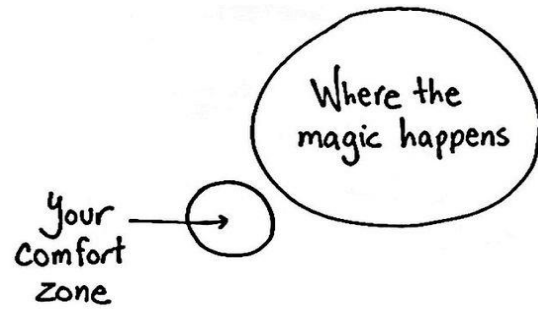

Nightlife

History

TOURISM

Why do people travel?

Tired of routine

Meet new people

Showing off on social media

Broaden your mind