

roses are red...

February 14th is Valentine's Day in many countries. On Valentine's Day, people send cards or flowers to people they love. Sometimes they write a poem and send it to a special friend. The poem below is the most famous Valentine's Day poem in English.

*Roses are red
Violets are blue
Sugar is sweet
And so are you*

Test your knowledge of English pronunciation. Look at the words below. Can you find the pairs of words that sound the same?

Example: blue & you

gray red blue
white say stink
pink head night
 you

There are many funny versions of this poem. Take each pair of words from the list above and put them in the correct poems on the right. The first word is always a colour word.

Then cut out the Valentine's Day card below. Fold it in half and write your own poem on the inside.

Violets are blue
Roses are ____
When you take off your socks
Your feet really ____

.....

Roses are red,
The snow is ____
When I think of you
I cant sleep at ____

.....

Roses are blue,
Violets are ____
If you think this is right
You have rocks in your ____

.....

Roses are red
But the sky is ____
You are so beautiful
I dont know what to ____

