Tapescript

PROXIMO: What do you want? Hmmمم? Girl? Boy?

MAXIMUS: You sent for me?

PROXIMO: Yes I did. You are good, Spaniard, but you're not that good. You could be magnificent.

MAXIMUS: I am required to kill so I kill. That is enough.

PROXIMO: That's enough for the provinces but not for Rome. The young Emperor has arranged a series of spectacles to commemorate his father, Marcus Aurelius. I find that amusing since it was Marcus Aurelius, the wise, the all-knowing Marcus Aurelius, who closed us down. So finally after 5 years of scratching a living in flea infested villages we are finally going back to where we belong, the Colosseum.

Oh you should see the Colosseum, Spaniard. 50,000 Romans watching every movement of your sword, willing you to make the killer blow. The silence before you strike, and the noise afterwards, it rises, rises up like...like...like a storm, as though you were the Thunder God himself.

MAXIMUS: You were a gladiator?

PROXIMO: Yes, I was.

MAXIMUS: You won your freedom?

PROXIMO: Long time ago the old emperor Marcus Aurelius presented me with a Rudius - it's just a wooden sword, a symbol for your freedom. He touched me on the shoulder once, and I was free.

MAXIMUS: You knew Marcus Aurelius?

PROXIMO: I did not say that I knew him. I said he touched me on the shoulder once.

MAXIMUS: You asked me what I want. I, too, want to stand in front of the Emperor, as you did.

PROXIMO: Then listen to me. Learn from me. I wasn't the best because I killed quickly. I was the best because the crowd loved me. Win the crowd, win your freedom.

MAXIMUS: I will win the crowd. I will give them something they have never seen before.

PROXIMO: Haaa! So, Spaniard, we shall go to Rome together and have bloody adventures and the great whore will suckle us until we are fat and happy and can suckle no more. And then, when enough men have died, perhaps you will have your freedom. Here, use this....

JUBA: It is somewhere out there, my country, my home. My wife is preparing food. My daughters carry water from the river. Will I ever see them again? I think not.

MAXIMUS: Do you believe that you will see them again when you die?

JUBA: I think so, but then, I will die soon. They will not die for many years. I will have to wait.

MAXIMUS: But you would...wait?

JUBA: Of course.

MAXIMUS: You see, my wife and my son are already waiting for me.

JUBA: You will meet them again. But not yet. Not yet.

MAXIMUS: Not yet. Not yet.
