

GENERAL REPHRASINGS 3 – ANSWER KEY

33A – 34A

321.- George suggested (that) Sarah go out / should go out / went out more often.

322.- I'll drop in on my way to the station.

323.- He found it extremely difficult, but finally he succeeded in forcing the safe open.

324.- In some places they still have donkeys so as to transport heavy things.

325.- It is thought that he is hiding in a foreign country.

326.- Such places as the Cathedral and the Royal Palace were visited (by us).

327.- I had never worn such colourful shoes.

328.- The dictator was to blame for the poor conditions on living.

329.- He looks very young, but the fact (of the matter) is (that) he is in his 60s.

330.- In repairing the car, his clothes got very dirty.

331.- My daughter had her hair straightened yesterday.

332.- It seems that she is looking for a job.

333.- Is there any reason for you / your living in London?

334.- That's the last picture to have been painted by him.

335.- The CD to which I was listening was one of the summer hits.

336.- After arguing for a while, the girl was allowed to make up her lips.

337.- As soon as she had listened to the news, she phoned her solicitor.

338.- Ted suggested preparing a barbecue in his garden.

Ted suggested (that) they should prepare a barbecue in his garden.

Ted suggested (that) they prepared a barbecue in his garden.

339.- If you hadn't had a toothache, you wouldn't have postponed our appointment.

340.- It makes no difference whether he's sleepy or not. He has to start work at 6 a.m.

35B – 36B

841.- But for the traffic jam, we would have arrived on time.

842.- “If you bother me again, I'll start shouting”, she said to them.

843.- You must be patient with her. She's not feeling well lately.

844.- Murillo's paintings aren't so difficult to understand as Picasso's.

845.- I'll watch the film on TV, provided we have finished lunch by then.

846.- As soon as he got home, he took his shoes off.

847.- She set the timer to avoid overcooking the beans.

848.- There's no point in you trying the skirt on. It's too small.

849.- After having escaped from prison, he felt free.

850.- Everybody was silent so that they could hear the footsteps.

851.- It appears that he became very annoyed.

852.- If you don't apologise immediately, you won't see me again.

853.- He was quite sceptical. It was the first time he had ever been told the future through the tarot cards.

854.- As becoming a doctor is so difficult, she's studying to be a nurse.

855.- The ecologists seem to have won the elections.

856.- I'll smoke a cigarette unless it bothers you.

857.- 'Be careful. There are plenty of wasps here,” he said.

858.- Don't eat so quickly because you may get stomachache.

859.- Her old-fashioned clothes betrayed her.

860.- His voice sounded as if he was completely innocent.