

EXAMPLE OF A BIOGRAPHY

Bad Bunny

singer

Bad Bunny is a famous Puerto Rican singer and rapper. He is known worldwide for his unique style, catchy songs, and strong influence on Latin music.

He was born in Puerto Rico in 1994. When he was young, he listened to music and sang in a choir. Later, he started uploading songs online and became very popular. He has released many successful albums and has won a Grammy award. While he was studying at university, he was also working and creating music. He even performed at the Super Bowl halftime show.

I admire Bad Bunny because he is original and creative. He is not afraid to be different and express himself. His success and achievements show that with effort and passion, you can achieve your dreams.

HOW TO WRITE A BIOGRAPHY

A biography tells the life of a person. It has 3 paragraphs:

1. Presentation and why that person is important.
2. Summary of their life.
3. Why does the writer of the biography admire that person?

You have to remember that if you are talking about when that person was little, you need to use past tenses: past simple, past continuous and present perfect.

1. If the person is alive today, the tenses in the first paragraph are in the present tense. If the person is dead, in the past. Ej. Bad Bunny is... vs. Florence Nightingale was...
2. Here you have to include past tenses.
3. This paragraph is written in present if the person is alive (I admire him because he is...) and in the past if the person is dead (I admire him because he was...)
