

Future Forms (Present Continuous vs. Will)

Remember

- Present Continuous → fixed plans/arrangements
- Will → decisions, promises, predictions, or spontaneous actions

Part A: Fill in the gaps (present continuous or will + base verb)

1. I _____ (meet) Anna at 3 p.m. tomorrow.
2. Don't worry, I _____ (help) you with your presentation.
3. We _____ (have) a team meeting on Monday morning.
4. I think they _____ (not / finish) the project on time. (–)
5. I think it _____ (rain) later today.
6. They _____ (fly) to New York next week.
7. Oh no, I forgot my notes! I _____ (go) back and get them.
8. She _____ (start) her new job next month.
9. I'm sure you _____ (do) great in your exam.
10. Don't worry, I _____ (not / forget) to send the email. (–)
11. We _____ (have) dinner with clients tonight.
12. It's cold in here. I _____ (close) the window.

Part B: Choose the correct option

1. I am meeting / will meet my boss at 10 a.m. tomorrow.
2. Wait, I am answering / will answer the phone.
3. They are moving / will move to a new office next month (already arranged).
4. I think she is liking / will like your idea.
5. We are having / will have a conference next Friday (it's scheduled).

Part C: Rewrite the sentences

1. She is meeting the manager tomorrow. → (negative)

→ _____

2. She will call you later. → (question)

→ _____

3. They are having a meeting at 2 p.m. → (question)

→ _____

4. We will finish the report today. → (negative)

→ _____

5. He is starting a new job next week. → (negative)

→ _____